LOCATION

Ford Farm House is set within a beautiful rural landscape of lush green hills and wooded valleys. It is located set back from a country lane, only a short drive from Niton where local amenities and a school can be found. The bustling, eclectic, coastal town of Ventnor, less than five miles away, offers beach walks, restaurants, schools and shops as well as a popular pub by the sea. There is a wealth of cultural activities on offer in Ventnor throughout the year and the town prides itself on having one of the Island's most beautiful cricket grounds and a vibrant tennis club.

THE PROPERTY

The original period farm house was built in the late 1800's and has been sympathetically extended to create a spacious family home with flexible living space. Outside, the gardens have been thoughtfully landscaped with raised beds, a pergola, stone walling and herbaceous borders defining the lawned spaces. The house sits centrally within its grounds with a driveway leading from the lane at the front to parking space at the rear where the one-bedroom annexe can be found within its own private enclave. The interiors of both the house and the annexe are welcoming and homely and offer the new owner a chance to add their own style. Ford Farm House offers ample space for the needs of a growing family with the additional accommodation lending itself to being used as a holiday let, as it is currently, or as a detached guest suite. The workshop and part-glazed potting shed is separate from the house and provides a useful space for hobbies or gardening projects.
